WHAT MAKES UEA SO SPECIAL?

The University of East Anglia is a publicly funded major UK research and teaching university. It was built to embody a radical new vision for higher education, where interdisciplinarity is crucial and excellence in both research and teaching is valued. UEA consistently ranks within the top quarter of universities in the UK for the quality of research and teaching.

As a major regional employer and cultural centre, we take our regional civic responsibilities very seriously and have kept our sights on the people and place we call home. In fact, we launched our University Civic Charter in October 2023; created from in-depth community engagement, renewing our commitment to the region as part of our 60th anniversary.

There are many things which make UEA special, not least of which is the community of staff and students that work and study here. UEA includes three Nobel prize winners, including Sir Paul Nurse and Sir Michael Houghton, and many fellows of the Royal Society and British Academy amongst our alumni and current staff.

Our campus is home to Sir Denys Lasdun's iconic brutalist architecture set in hundreds of acres of beautiful country park that includes a large broad (lake). In the spirit of Lasdun's ambition to inspire an anatomy of ideas, today, UEA is tackling some of the key challenges of the changing world. UEA's research combines disciplines and breaks new boundaries across its priority research themes of climate, creative and health.

UEA is the place where global warming was first documented. Since the 1970s, UEA's Climatic Research Unit, and more recently Tyndall Centre for Climate Change (Headquarters hosted at UEA), have played a pivotal role in developing temperature records and climate models, contributing to the understanding of climate change, and informing global policy. Many UEA scientists have played significant roles in the Intergovernmental Panel for Climate Change (IPCC), which was jointly awarded the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize for its efforts to increase public knowledge of anthropogenic climate change. Environmental Science and Global Studies at UEA continue to be a major powerhouse for research and teaching.

UEA is widely regarded as a pioneer in creative writing, having established the UK's first Creative Writing Masters programme in 1970. This renowned programme has since attracted and produced numerous successful writers, including Booker Prize winners such as Ian McEwan and Anne Enright, and Nobel Prize Winner Sir Kazuo Ishiguro. In recent years, UEA academics have played a pivotal role in the discovery and presentation of the Gloucester Royal shipwreck (Norfolk's Mary Rose). Our iconic Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts is a major museum and arts research facility.

Health research at UEA not only embraces the Faculty of Medicine and Health but draws in research from both social and natural sciences. Research under this theme has made major contributions in the fields of healthy ageing, epidemiology and involving citizens (via our innovative Citizens' Academy) in improving health care outcomes. This theme benefits from close association with the other major research institutes on the Norwich Research Park; notably the Norfolk and Norwich University Hospital and the Quadram Institute. The Norwich Cancer Research Network, and Norfolk Institute for Healthy Ageing, are examples of key mechanisms for delivery of real impact from health research at UEA.

UEA has been a major success over the last 60 years and looks forward with confidence to the next 60 years.

For an informal discussion about the post please contact Holly Mudie, Head of Corporate Marketing via h.mudie@uea.ac.uk

UEA is part of the Norwich Research Park

Norwich Research Park (NRP) membership locates UEA in one of the largest concentrations of research institutes in the whole of Europe – four independent internationally-renowned research institutes: John Innes Centre, Quadram Institute, Earlham Institute and The Sainsbury Laboratory; with the University of East Anglia and Norfolk and Norwich University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, supported and funded by The John Innes Foundation, The Gatsby Foundation, and UKRI Biotechnology and Biological Sciences Research Council.

The NRP provides an ideal environment for collaborative use of infrastructure and facilities, with a single portal for academics and businesses to access the specialist facilities across the Park.

The Enterprise Centre is a regional business, knowledge and innovation hub, with workspace provision and supports over 80 businesses working alongside UEA staff and students in a dynamic and vibrant entrepreneurial community. On the wider NRP, there are dedicated laboratory and office spaces in the Innovation Centre and Centrum hosting over 600 staff within a total of 115 businesses and spinouts.

THE ROLE

This role sits within our Corporate Marketing team, the guardians and narrators of UEA's Original by Nature brand. We lead UEA's brand and content strategy, shaping the institutional narrative across every major campaign and channel. We set the creative standards, messaging frameworks and governance that enable colleagues and agencies across UEA to deliver confident, on-brand activity.

As Brand Governance Officer, you will be a core part of that team, responsible for the operational management and continuous improvement of the University's brand governance systems. This includes the Creative Supplier Framework, Digital Asset Management systems (DAMS), multimedia processes and brand governance infrastructure that underpin everything the team delivers.

You will lead on the effective operation and optimisation of DAMS, the central location for UEA's photography, video and brand guidelines, ensuring it is well-maintained, easy to use and continuously improved. You will also manage and enhance customer service delivery across the Brand Inbox, Creative Supplier Framework and model release consent processes, reviewing current approaches and implementing changes that drive efficiency, compliance and consistency.

A key part of this role is supporting the set-up and ongoing management of a UEA-wide Brand Champions Network, building a community of practice across faculties and professional services that strengthens brand adoption and embeds consistent, high-quality brand application across the institution.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

- Manage the Brand inbox, resolving queries effectively, identifying trends and using insight to improve brand guidance and processes; independently determining which issues can be resolved at this level, which require a change to guidance or process and which require escalation.
- Act as operational lead for the Creative Supplier Framework, managing SLA communications, monitoring supplier performance and driving improvements in effectiveness and value; taking autonomous decisions on day-to-day framework operation, supplier guidance and process improvements within agreed governance parameters, escalating only where contractual or reputational risk requires senior input.
- Manage the day-to-day operation of UEA's Digital Asset Management Systems (DAMS), including user access, permissions, metadata and taxonomy structures to improve asset discoverability and service delivery.
- Establish and maintain a supplier performance monitoring framework including brand compliance tracking and post-project feedback – to enable evidence-based framework management; designing this framework from scratch where no established approach exists and making independent judgements about supplier compliance and the appropriate response to underperformance.
- Own and continuously improve the brief intake and triage process, implementing quality checks that reduce failure demand and keep the team focused on value work; developing new approaches and controls where no established process currently exists and proactively identifying systematic issues before they generate rework or delays.
- Produce and interpret monthly reporting on multimedia asset performance, providing insights and recommendations to inform decision-making.

- Manage model release consent processes, including identity match-back and DAMS linking, to ensure Data Protection compliance.
- Lead on the operational delivery of the DAMS platform migration, coordinating with suppliers, ITCS and internal stakeholders across defined project phases to ensure smooth transition and successful adoption; making independent decisions on project priorities, issue resolution and sequencing across the migration lifecycle with accountability for outcomes that affect UEA's brand governance infrastructure.
- Develop, coordinate and provide direction to the UEA Brand Champions Network, building capability and consistency across faculties and professional services; taking responsibility for designing, developing and delivering structured brand induction, briefing and refresher sessions for Brand Champions and other colleagues across UEA's community. This includes:
 - Creating and maintaining training materials and guidance resources
 - Scheduling regular sessions
 - Ensuring brand capability is actively sustained across the institution over time
- Take ownership of defined workstreams within larger strategic projects, ensuring delivery against objectives.
- Exercise prompt and considered judgement in identifying and escalating complex or sensitive issues for resolution.
- Take independent decisions on brand governance matters, process design and system configuration within agreed parameters, with accountability for outcomes that affect the quality and consistency of brand activity across multiple teams, faculties and external suppliers.

PEOPLE, SUPPORT AND DEVELOPMENT

- Build effective working relationships across the University, advising colleagues on brand governance, asset use and supplier processes.
- Use expertise to drive adoption of best practice, supporting colleagues to improve the quality and consistency of brand outputs; designing and delivering structured training, briefings and guidance sessions independently on a regular and ongoing basis.

OUR CAMPUS

UEA is based on a campus that provides top quality academic, social and cultural facilities to over 17,000 students.

Although located in 320 acres of rolling parkland, virtually no part of the campus is more than a few minutes' walk from anywhere else, so everything is close at hand – the library, nursery, health centre, supermarket (incorporating a post office) and restaurants. Amongst the striking buildings is the UEA's Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, which contains the Robert and Lisa Sainsbury Collection – one of the greatest art collections formed in Europe during the 20th Century.

The University has invested in new learning and teaching and research spaces, including a celebrated new Enterprise Centre that underpins its commitment to promoting student enterprise and entrepreneurship.

Sport and Recreation plays a major part in the life of the University of East Anglia, centred around the major Sportspark facility which is one of the most successful community sport facilities in the UK. This accessible and affordable facility provides a diverse range of activities, and incorporates a 50m Olympic size swimming pool, indoor climbing wall, coaching resource centre and sports injury clinic.

NORWICH

A CITY OF STORIES

The city's motto is 'A fine city' and its strong cultural heritage has seen Norwich maintain the best of its historical character whilst developing to become one of the most vibrant and attractive cities in Europe. Norwich offers miles of riverside walks and cycle ways, and a unique collection of 1930s parks. The city is surrounded by beautiful countryside and within easy reach of the stunning Norfolk coast.

Norwich is a UNESCO World city of Literature, the first in the UK, as well as being one of the newly named Tech Cities recognising the growth of digital businesses in the region. The most prominent high-rise building, apart from the castle, is the magnificent 11th century cathedral, which still dominates the skyline. The city's medieval centre of cobbled streets remains largely intact, but there is still space for modern buildings such as the city's centrepiece, the Forum, which is a striking piece of contemporary architecture. The glass front overlooks the colourful open-air market (one of the largest in the country) and reflects the city in all its diversity.

The city is consistently rated as one of the top ten shopping venues in the UK. Norfolk and Suffolk attract thousands of visitors each summer. The famous Norfolk Broads are among the most important wetlands in Europe and a haven for rare plants, wildlife and insects. The Broads attract holidaymakers who come to navigate the intricate natural network of waterways formed by the Rivers Bure, Yare and Waveney and their tributaries.

For further information about UEA's excellent facilities, staff benefits, picturesque campus and the UEA working environment, please visit the 'Careers at UEA' microsite <https://www.uea.ac.uk/about/working-at-uea>. Additional information about living and working in the city of Norwich can be found at <https://www.workinnorwich.co.uk/>

If there is another city in the United Kingdom with a school of painters named after it, a matchless modern art gallery, a university with a reputation for literary excellence which can boast Booker Prize-winning alumni, one of the grandest Romanesque cathedrals in the world, an extraordinary new state-of-the-art public library then I have yet to hear of it. Norwich is a fine city. None finer.
