WHAT MAKES UEA SO SPECIAL?

The University of East Anglia is a publicly funded major UK research and teaching university. It was built to embody a radical new vision for higher education, where interdisciplinarity is crucial and excellence in both research and teaching is valued. UEA consistently ranks within the top quarter of universities in the UK for the quality of research and teaching.

As a major regional employer and cultural centre, we take our regional civic responsibilities very seriously and have kept our sights on the people and place we call home. In fact, we launched our University Civic Charter in October 2023; created from in-depth community engagement, renewing our commitment to the region as part of our 60th anniversary.

There are many things which make UEA special, not least of which is the community of staff and students that work and study here. UEA includes three Nobel prize winners, including Sir Paul Nurse and Sir Michael Houghton, and many fellows of the Royal Society and British Academy amongst our alumni and current staff.

Our campus is home to Sir Denys Lasdun's iconic brutalist architecture set in hundreds of acres of beautiful country park that includes a large broad (lake). In the spirit of Lasdun's ambition to inspire an anatomy of ideas, today, UEA is tackling some of the key challenges of the changing world. UEA's research combines disciplines and breaks new boundaries across its priority research themes of climate, creative and health.

UEA is the place where global warming was first documented. Since the 1970s, UEA's Climatic Research Unit, and more recently Tyndall Centre for Climate Change (Headquarters hosted at UEA), have played a pivotal role in developing temperature records and climate models, contributing to the understanding of climate change, and informing global policy. Many UEA scientists have played significant roles in the Intergovernmental Panel for Climate Change (IPCC), which was jointly awarded the 2007 Nobel Peace Prize for its efforts to increase public knowledge of anthropogenic climate change. Environmental Science and Global Studies at UEA continue to be a major powerhouse for research and teaching.

UEA is widely regarded as a pioneer in creative writing, having established the UK's first Creative Writing Masters programme in 1970. This renowned programme has since attracted and produced numerous successful writers, including Booker Prize winners such as Ian McEwan and Anne Enright, and Nobel Prize Winner Sir Kazuo Ishiguro. In recent years, UEA academics have played a pivotal role in the discovery and presentation of the Gloucester Royal shipwreck (Norfolk's Mary Rose). Our iconic Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts is a major museum and arts research facility.

Health research at UEA not only embraces the Faculty of Medicine and Health but draws in research from both social and natural sciences. Research under this theme has made major contributions in the fields of healthy ageing, epidemiology and involving citizens (via our innovative Citizens' Academy) in improving health care outcomes. This theme benefits from close association with the other major research institutes on the Norwich Research Park; notably the Norfolk and Norwich University Hospital and the Quadram Institute. The Norwich Cancer Research Network, and Norfolk Institute for Healthy Ageing, are examples of key mechanisms for delivery of real impact from health research at UEA.

UEA has been a major success over the last 60 years and looks forward with confidence to the next 60 years.

For an informal discussion about the post please contact James Cornford via j.cornford@uea.ac.uk to arrange a MS Teams call or a phone conversation.

UEA is part of the Norwich Research Park

Norwich Research Park (NRP) membership locates UEA in one of the largest concentrations of research institutes in the whole of Europe – four independent internationally-renowned research institutes: John Innes Centre, Quadram Institute, Earlham Institute and The Sainsbury Laboratory; with the University of East Anglia and Norfolk and Norwich University Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust, supported and funded by The John Innes Foundation, The Gatsby Foundation, and UKRI Biotechnology and Biological Sciences Research Council.

The NRP provides an ideal environment for collaborative use of infrastructure and facilities, with a single portal for academics and businesses to access the specialist facilities across the Park.

The Enterprise Centre is a regional business, knowledge and innovation hub, with workspace provision and supports over 80 businesses working alongside UEA staff and students in a dynamic and vibrant entrepreneurial community. On the wider NRP, there are dedicated laboratory and office spaces in the Innovation Centre and Centrum hosting over 600 staff within a total of 115 businesses and spinouts.

THE ROLE

What is a KTP?

Funded by Innovate UK and the partner business, Knowledge Transfer Partnerships (KTP) have been helping businesses innovate for growth for 50 years. KTP projects are a three-way relationship between the candidate (Associate) as the Project Lead, the university, and the business. This unique opportunity allows a graduate to be based in a business, drawing on university expertise and support and transferring knowledge into the company to implement innovative solutions to real world challenges, making a real difference to people and places.

What can you expect from this job?

- You will be responsible for leading and delivering a challenging commercial project that directly impacts the business, with the opportunity to be a champion of real change.
- You will receive input and support from an academic team with specialist knowledge and experience relevant to the project.
- We will provide a £2,000 p.a. training budget that is tailored to your personal development needs, along with two residential management training courses early in the project.
- You will have the opportunity to deliver high impact outcomes within a business, whilst learning at the same time – a launchpad for your long-term career progression and success.

As a KTP Associate, you will be employed by the University of East Anglia (UEA). You will work predominantly at Norwich Business Improvement District (BID) premises in The Forum in central Norwich and be supervised by both a company staff member and an academic at the University.

Job Purpose

The purpose of the project is to transform the capacity of Norwich to profit from business tourism. This 18-month Knowledge Transfer Partnership (KTP) project aims to embed specialist knowledge and build organisational capacity to develop a Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB) and pilot related activity. Led by VisitNorwich, the destination marketing organisation within Norwich BID, the project will explore the establishment of a CVB and a supporting venue, both currently absent in Norwich and the wider East of England. In parallel, the project will assess the feasibility of an Accommodation BID or a Visitor Levy and the creation of a Conference Centre.

Internally, the project will embed skills and expertise in digital transformation, place branding, and destination marketing across both Norwich BID and VisitNorwich, strengthening long-term capability and resilience.

Externally, the project will maximise the value of conferencing and business tourism, showcase Norwich as a competitive destination, and drive a shift in perceptions, particularly addressing narratives of remoteness and rurality. It will also support the existing Work in Norwich inward investment campaign, enabling a new destination brand to leapfrog national and international competitors.

Desired outcomes include attracting business tourism, strengthening connections with the EU, establishing a fully funded CVB, and developing a robust business case for an Accommodation BID or Visitor Levy. A further major output will be research into the potential development of a new conference and arena facility for Norwich.

KEY RESPONSIBILITIES

We are seeking a motivated and ambitious Associate to conduct a research and change management project delivered jointly by Norwich BID and the University of East Anglia. The role provides the opportunity to apply academic knowledge to real world challenges, deliver measurable impact and develop strong professional capabilities.

Your principal role will be to lead the KTP project, arranging monthly project meetings and reporting to the project steering group known as the Local Management Committee (LMC) quarterly basis.

This job description sets out the duties of the post at the time it was drawn up, based on the project plan for the Knowledge Transfer Partnership (KTP) project. These duties may vary from time to time as the project progresses, according to the needs of the project.

You will:

- Lead and manage a significant business innovation project
- Work with academics, industry partners and multidisciplinary teams
- Support monitoring, evaluation and reporting
- Contribute to event planning, marketing and stakeholder engagement
- Work independently and manage competing deadlines

The role provides funded training through the KTP Professional Development programme and offers a strong pathway for progression into project management, innovation leadership or sector specific roles in business and/or academia.

If you are proactive, adaptable and eager to develop your expertise in a dynamic, real-world environment, we would love to hear from you.

GENERAL

- Undertake additional or alternative duties commensurate with the grade as deemed appropriate by the Line Manager.
- Contribute to the continuous development of Norwich Business School and the Norwich BID.
- Positively support and promote the University's Values in all aspects of work.
- Abide by all University Regulations and Policies relevant to the role.
- The postholder is bound at all times to observe the strict rules of confidentiality applicable to work in Norwich Business School and the Norwich BID.

THE PERSON

EDUCATION AND TRAINING

- BSc/BA Hons in a related subject, preferably in the field of tourism studies, planning, urban economics/geography, business, marketing or management, or relevant work experience in a similar role (E)
- Relevant Masters or higher degree in one of the fields above (D)

SKILLS, KNOWLEDGE AND EXPERIENCE

- Experience conducting relevant project work, placement and/or work experience, including project planning and time management skills with the ability to work independently and to meet objectives and deadlines with an appropriate level of supervision (E)
- Experience working as part of a team to achieve common goals and deadlines (E)
- Strong communication skills, with an ability to develop strong, effective relationships with colleagues and other project stakeholders (E)
- An understanding of how to apply research to business operations, and an ability to deliver a significant and challenging technical project whilst engaging others (E)

- Experience completing regular written reports, meeting minutes, and presentations (potentially both at the university and commercially) (D)
- Experience contributing to collaborative decision making in areas of business and research (D)
- Demonstrate analytical and problem-solving skills (D)

PERSONAL ATTRIBUTES

- The desire to lead, drive and help to shape a major project (E)
- Demonstrate UEA's Values and behaviours in day-to-day work and support a team culture that reflects them (E)
- Willingness to lead change and develop work practices in the BID (E)
- Proactive and self-motivated and willing to take ownership of tasks without close supervision (E)
- Confident, articulate and credible communicator (E)
- Able to maintain confidentiality (E)
- Flexible regarding work hours when needed for events or project delivery (E)

Essential Requirements (E) are those, without which, a candidate would not be able to do the job.

Desirable Requirements (D) are those which would be useful for the post holder to possess and will be considered when more than one applicant meets the essential requirements.

FURTHER INFORMATION

The post is available from 1 June 2026 on a full-time basis for a fixed term period of 18 months.

Salary will be £31,236 to £37,694 per annum on Grade 6 on the single salary spine.

Place of Work - Norwich BID, The Forum, Millennium Plain, Norwich, NR2 1TF, with some activity on the UEA campus.

Hybrid working is available on the successful completion of probationary period. Full-time BID staff are required to be in the office 3 days per week, including Mondays as the mandatory office day.

If successful you will be asked to show evidence of right to work in the UK prior to any formal offer being made. Non-British and non-Irish nationals entering the UK to undertake employment or who are currently in the UK will have to meet eligibility criteria under the points-based immigration system. The University may be able to provide sponsorship under the Skilled Worker route if relevant criteria are met. Please note, due to the complexities of the immigration system, Skilled Worker visa sponsorship is not guaranteed for every role. If you would like further information about whether this role is eligible for visa sponsorship, please contact staff.visacompliance@uea.ac.uk

The post is superannuable under the Universities Superannuation Scheme and there is an annual leave entitlement of 20 days plus statutory (8 days) holidays. The University is committed to creating an environment where the health, welfare and safety of all students and staff is of paramount importance. The University's Safeguarding Policy addresses both child protection and safeguarding children, young people and vulnerable adults within the work of the University. Appointment will be subject to satisfactory pre-employment checks, which may include an Occupational Health assessment.

Information on the benefits of working at UEA can be found at <https://www.uea.ac.uk/about/working-at-uea>.

If you require the information contained within this candidate brochure in a different format please email staff.recruitment@uea.ac.uk

HOW TO APPLY

To apply for this vacancy, please follow the online instructions at: <https://vacancies.uea.ac.uk>

The closing date for this role is 11:59pm on 4 May 2026.

Please note that the application form contains an Equal Opportunities section which must be completed. The Equal Opportunities information will not be made available to the selection panel and will not form any part of either the short-listing or decision making process.

It is anticipated that interviews will take place in person on 18 May 2026 and we will inform you of the outcome of your application prior to this date.

Candidates should note that travel and incidental expenses incurred in attending an in-person interview will not be reimbursed.

ABOUT THE CHARITY

Norwich Business Improvement District (BID) is a not-for-profit organisation set up to represent the needs of local businesses and deliver meaningful improvements to our city for visitors, residents and workers.

Our work sits across tourism, city marketing, enhancing and animating the cityscape, and ensuring businesses have what they need to trade as profitably, safely and sustainably as possible.

Since 2012, the Norwich Business Improvement District (BID) has worked on behalf of over 700 local businesses, to deliver a varied and comprehensive program of projects that benefit the city. We are funded, managed and led by these businesses, and – during the course of the last decade – have delivered work which we know has had a positive impact on people who live and work here. This is a proud city-wide collaboration that makes a difference.

ABOUT THE PROJECT

The Meetings, Incentive travel, Conferences, and Events (MICE) sector is undergoing significant transformation, resulting in an increased need for innovative support mechanisms. In response to these developments, Norwich Business Improvement District (Norwich BID) has identified two key opportunities to attract major conferences to the region and intends to pilot the first Convention and Visitors Bureau (CVB) dedicated to the East of England and investigate the potential for an Accommodation (ABID).

Through this project, we seek to embed digital transformation strategy, place brand leadership, and destination marketing expertise from Norwich Business School into the BID to achieve this vision. Outputs will establish a framework for the launch of a CVB that will promote Norwich's rich history, vibrant art scene and green credentials to attract visitors, conferences and investment. The project will also decide the funding mechanism for the CVB, which will be a combination of membership fees and income generated from a proposed ABID.

The knowledge, skills, and expertise developed will establish a strategic direction that aligns with the BID strategy to position Norwich and the broader East of England as a competitive and regionally significant MICE destination. This approach leverages the area's unique assets, enhances infrastructure, and supports economic growth.

ABOUT THE SCHOOL

The University of East Anglia's Norwich Business School stands out as a premier institution in the UK, renowned for its teaching and research excellence on a global scale. Our commitment to quality is evident in our top rankings, 14th overall in the REF2021 exercise and 93% of our outputs ranked as world leading or internationally excellent. We consistently feature in the UK top rankings for various business subjects, including Accounting and Finance (29th Complete University Guide 2026), Marketing (19th Complete University Guide 2026) and Business and Management Studies (34th Complete University Guide 2026).

Offering a diverse range of undergraduate and postgraduate programs, we attract students from around the world to explore contemporary business and management developments. Our executive and professional education programs, such as the AMBA accredited MBA and nationally recognised Help to Grow Programme, cater to professionals seeking to advance their careers.

Collaborating closely with industry leaders, our Business School fosters a dynamic environment for research and innovation. Our partnerships with large and small employers enrich our curriculum - supporting employability initiatives, authentic assessment and placements, ensuring our students are equipped with real-world practical skills and knowledge.

As an integral part of the University of East Anglia, we align our efforts with the university's mission to address societal concerns. By working with key stakeholders including policymakers, businesses, and third sector organisations, we leverage our expertise in areas like health and wellbeing, competition policy, and environmental sustainability to make a meaningful impact.

Since our establishment in 1995, we've cultivated a truly global community with over 100 internationally recognised academics and business experts. Our seven subject groups encompass a wide spectrum of disciplines, reflecting our commitment to interdisciplinary collaboration: Accounting and Quantitative Methods, Responsible Business Regulation, Employment Systems and Institutions, Finance, Innovation, Technology and Operations Management, Marketing, Strategy and Entrepreneurship.

Our mission is clear: to provide outstanding student learning and conduct world-class research that informs business, management, and policy thinking. We aspire to nurture world-class talent capable of transforming business and management practices, shaping the future of our society.

Join us at the University of East Anglia's Business School and become a part of a vibrant community dedicated to pushing the boundaries of business innovation and fostering responsible leadership for the future.

OUR VALUES

Shaped by staff, our UEA values represent a core set of standards for how we behave as an employer, drive excellence in teaching, learning and research, and collaborate as an anchor institution in our local community.

From tackling global challenges, striving for student and staff success, and creating a vibrant inclusive environment, our values are what unite us.

OTHER ACCOLADES

- Queen's Anniversary Prizes for Higher and Further Education have been awarded to UEA for international development studies (2009), creative writing (2011) and environmental sciences (2017). Notable alumni include Sir Paul Nurse (1973, Nobel Prize for Medicine 2001), Sir Kazuo Ishiguro (1980, Nobel Prize for Literature 2017), Sir Michael Houghton (1972, Nobel Prize for Medicine 2020) and Sarah Gilbert (1983) who led the Oxford University team to develop a COVID-19 vaccine, approved in 2020.
- Our Doctoral College, established in 2018, hosts six Doctoral Training Partnerships and integrates Faculty and School provision for 1600 Postgraduate Research Students (including those from across the Norwich Research Park), enabling collaboration and innovation.
- We recognise our global impact and were one of the first universities to declare a climate and biodiversity emergency in June 2019. Our sustainable campus, including over 50 acres of environmentally valuable parkland, is constantly evolving with ambitions to be 100% net zero by 2045 or sooner.
- UEA is a University of Sanctuary, an accreditation given to universities that show an ongoing commitment to creating a welcoming culture of inclusivity and awareness.
- UEA was awarded the Silver Athena SWAN Award in 2019, and all our Schools hold awards at Bronze or Silver.

A vibrant place to study, learn and work, UEA is a very special place.

A SUSTAINABLE UNIVERSITY

At UEA, we are now working to create a university that will be even better in the future, and we are working to achieve net zero carbon by 2045 (or earlier). Our Sustainable Ways vision is one of a resilient university – where consumption is efficient and self-generated energy supports low carbon goals, supported by a vibrant community of world-leading researchers and inspired graduates.

At a basic level, our sustainable development means that we try to balance the 'three pillars' of environmental, economic and social elements.

We challenge our environmental impact through on-site energy generation and a district heating and cooling network, reducing our reliance on grid electricity and therefore fossil fuels. We promote and use recycled and 'eco' products such as biological cleaning materials. We champion local suppliers and ethical causes, including Fairtrade and vegan products. We seek to ensure value for money in a holistic, whole-life costing sense in our new buildings and procurement contracts.

OUR INITIATIVES

Central campaigns, such as holiday shut-downs or awareness day events, support a whole-University approach to energy saving and other initiatives.

OUR CAMPUS

UEA is based on a campus that provides top quality academic, social and cultural facilities to over 17,000 students.

Although located in 320 acres of rolling parkland, virtually no part of the campus is more than a few minutes' walk from anywhere else, so everything is close at hand – the library, nursery, health centre, supermarket (incorporating a post office) and restaurants. Amongst the striking buildings is the UEA's Sainsbury Centre for Visual Arts, which contains the Robert and Lisa Sainsbury Collection – one of the greatest art collections formed in Europe during the 20th Century.

The University has invested in new learning and teaching and research spaces, including a celebrated new Enterprise Centre that underpins its commitment to promoting student enterprise and entrepreneurship.

Sport and Recreation plays a major part in the life of the University of East Anglia, centred around the major Sportspark facility which is one of the most successful community sport facilities in the UK. This accessible and affordable facility provides a diverse range of activities, and incorporates a 50m Olympic size swimming pool, indoor climbing wall, coaching resource centre and sports injury clinic.

NORWICH

A CITY OF STORIES

The city's motto is 'A fine city' and its strong cultural heritage has seen Norwich maintain the best of its historical character whilst developing to become one of the most vibrant and attractive cities in Europe. Norwich offers miles of riverside walks and cycle ways, and a unique collection of 1930s parks. The city is surrounded by beautiful countryside and within easy reach of the stunning Norfolk coast.

Norwich is a UNESCO World city of Literature, the first in the UK, as well as being one of the newly named Tech Cities recognising the growth of digital businesses in the region. The most prominent high-rise building, apart from the castle, is the magnificent 11th century cathedral, which still dominates the skyline. The city's medieval centre of cobbled streets remains largely intact, but there is still space for modern buildings such as the city's centrepiece, the Forum, which is a striking piece of contemporary architecture. The glass front overlooks the colourful open-air market (one of the largest in the country) and reflects the city in all its diversity.

The city is consistently rated as one of the top ten shopping venues in the UK. Norfolk and Suffolk attract thousands of visitors each summer. The famous Norfolk Broads are among the most important wetlands in Europe and a haven for rare plants, wildlife and insects. The Broads attract holidaymakers who come to navigate the intricate natural network of waterways formed by the Rivers Bure, Yare and Waveney and their tributaries.

If there is another city in the United Kingdom with a school of painters named after it, a matchless modern art gallery, a university with a reputation for literary excellence which can boast Booker Prize-winning alumni, one of the grandest Romanesque cathedrals in the world, an extraordinary new state-of-the-art public library then I have yet to hear of it. Norwich is a fine city. None finer.
